Vaudeville Will Feature Bill at Torrance Sunday

Manager Announces Two Acts Will Augment Moving Picture Film

Two acts of first-class vaudeville will feature the Sunday program at the Torrance theatre, Manager G. C. Christman announced today.

King Vidor-John Gilbert. This, the greatest director-star combination the screen has ever known, already responsible for "The Big Parade" and "La Boheme," represents the talent, artistry, and ability of "Bardelys the Magnificent," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture coming to the Torrance theatre, Thursday and Friday.

The picture, one of the most vivid spectacles ever made for the screen, is from Rafael Sabatini's famous story of medieval France.

It is the masterpiece of the author of "Scaramouche," "The Sea Hawk," and others, provides an amazing display of Gilbert's versatility.

He fights some ferocious duels, for which he trained under the tutelage of an expert swordsman for several weeks; swims a raging river on horseback, pole vaults out of the grasp of his enemies and does a score of other equally dangerous and astounding stunts.

Eleanor Boardman, beautiful holder of the Wampus cup for the most notable screen achievement of the past year, is the leading woman of the production.

She recently scored a remarkable success in Elinor Glyn's "The Only Thing," when her beauty attracted widespread attention, while her clever acting in Rex Beach's "The Auction Block," added to her laurels.

Among the comedians who are supporting Johnny Hines in his new first National comedy, "Stepping Along," which will be seen Saturday at the Torrance theatre, is Dan Mason, who has celebrated his eightieth birthday and refuses to count any more.

"The first eighty are the hardest," Mr. Mason says, "and I refuse to think about what is yet to come."

Mr. Mason has starred under every big Broadway manager and has created many amusing characterizations on the screen.

He appeared with Johnny Hines in a number of the comedian's previous pictures, but he declares his best opportunity for putting over "The Scandals."

Pauline Starke experienced her first conventional wedding for the films during the making of "Love's Blindness," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture from Elinor Glyn's novel, in which she has the leading feminine role opposite Antonio Moreno, and which comes to the Torrance theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Pauline, who in real life is single, had been married many times before in the movies but they were all hasty, runaway matches.

Auto Washing and Paint Shop Opens

Local motorists will welcome the opening of a new automobile washing and painting service offered by A. R. Krause at 1220 Cabrillo Avenue, next to the Buick agency.

Mr. Krause has been a resident of Torrance for the past four years, and is a thoroughly experienced automobile painter.

He conducted a paint shop in Santa Monica previous to coming to Torrance where he has been employed in the painting department of the Columbia steel mills, only recently resigning his position, with the Columbia corporation to open his new shop.

A new improved high pressure hydraulic washing machine has been installed for washing cars.

The dirt is removed entirely by the application of clean, cold water under high pressure. No injurious soaps, chemicals, or steam are used.

Special monthly rates are being offered. A feature of the new wash service will be the motor and chassis cleaning.

Mr. Krause has been appointed the authorized DUCO paint shop for this district and promises an efficient and prompt service in painting cars, varying from four to seven days, according to the condition of the car.

Hardware Store Stages Big Sale

Articles of hardware are being slashed in price at the sale which starts tomorrow at the Torrance Hardware Company's store on Sartori Avenue.

The sale presages the close of the business, according to Leon Larson, who is retiring from business here on account of the press of other interests.

The sale is being conducted here for the purpose of disposing of the large stock of hardware to the people of Torrance. Bargains in all articles are recorded in a half page advertisement in this issue.
